Editorial Review

From the Back Cover

"The heavens are a vast Celestial Mirror in which is reflected all of human experience in a mandala of planets, stars and constellations that stretches to infinity in all directions, for all time."- Astrology Handbook

The Astrology Handbook offers innovative, quick and easy strategies never before offered in other books to help you read the future in the stars for yourself and others. This is a book you will use every day of your life; it is perfect for both beginners and professionals in the field.

This book tells you how to use Progressions, Solar Arc Directions, Transits, Solar and Lunar Returns, in addition to Fixed Stars. It shows you how to identify your Rising Sign, your Moon Sign, and where all the other important planets and points of your horoscope are by sign and house position.

This is the most comprehensive and complete exposition of professional Astrology techniques that has ever been written. The author's 35 years of experience makes this handbook a treasure trove of practical knowledge that everyone can apply to his or her life.

Know what sign of the zodiac you really are!
Know exactly when the Age of Aquarius begins.

The astrology that people are familiar with these days has lost its connection to the rich heritage of the ancient civilizations that established its fundamental principles. This book is an attempt to bring us back into a relationship with the starry heavens and with those masters of astrological wisdom who have come before us.

Using what you learn in this handbook, you will be able to judge future trends for the benefit of your life, your family, and your career.

About the Author

Anton Jaks began his career in Astrology in the early 1970s after graduating from University of California, Santa Barbara. He was a partner in a metaphysical bookstore in Santa Barbara called Starlight Books, and during that time taught and practiced Astrology.

Later, Anton pursued graduate studies at McGill University in Montreal, Canada, studying primarily Hindu and Buddhist Tantra and Yoga, as well as other Eastern religions.

Anton now spends time traveling in the West with his wife Katherine, practicing Tibetan Buddhism, in the school of Nyingma, primarily as taught by Thinley Norbu Rinpoche.

He writes on Astrology in order to show how the ancient art and science can be used as a tool for personal liberation. His main interest is in restoring the study and practice of Astrology to the prominence it once enjoyed before becoming diluted by the New Age self-absorption with "personal journeys" and the like. That is why he advocates abandoning the Tropical Zodiac and using the Sidereal Zodiac that was used by the ancient Egyptians and Chaldeans.
