Twentieth Century Masters of Erotic Art By Bradley Smith

From dust jacket notes: "The erotic image is defined by men and women whose paintings are recognized internationally by the world's great museums and fine art galleries. In this extraordinary book, the modern world, the flesh, and the devil are captured as never before. Within it are 163 newly photographed works of art, each one faithfully reproduced, unretouched, in four color lithography. On these oversized pages is reflected the erotic life of our times from never before published Picasso watercolors of 1901-02 to the initial publication of recent works by George Segal, Andy Warhol, Larry Rivers, R.B. Kitaj, Tom Wesselman and many others. The erotic treasures displayed here are the culmination of author Bradley Smith's two-year, world-wide research. From important private collections come unpublished works by famous artists of England, Austria, France, the United States, Germany, Italy, and Spain. Little known Japanese, Mexican, and Russian masters have contributed their outstanding works of art to make this the definitive work on modern and contemporary erotic painting. Here then is a richness never visualized even by the greatest collectors. The mosaic created by these diverse sexual points of view forms a strikingly comprehensive chronicle of the sexuality of our times as only great artists could record it. In fantasy, humor, romance, realism - and beyond realism - they explain and reveal our most intimate thoughts and dreams...."
