The wackiest road trip in history continues in book four of the New York Times bestselling Genius Files series, following twins Coke and Pepsi as they dodge villains and visit weird-but-true landmarks from Texas all the way to Roswell, New Mexico!

After their explosive escape at Graceland, twins Coke and Pepsi are ready to resume their trip across America—only now in a convertible instead of the RV. They travel through Arkansas and Oklahoma, visiting weird-but-true tourist stops along the way, and finally end up in Texas, home of the Weird Capital of the Country, Austin. The twins' many enemies—the bowler dudes, Mrs. Higgins, and Dr. Warsaw—all swear that they're done chasing Coke and Pepsi for good. But when the twins start receiving more codes and ciphers from a mysterious robotic voice, they know someone's after them. They just have to figure out who before the mystery villain finds them first.

With the real-kid humor that has earned him millions of readers around the world, and featuring all new weird-but-true locations around America, this fourth book in the New York Times bestselling Genius Files series is absolutely batty!

From Booklist

In the fourth book of the Genius Files series, the McDonald family continues their cross-country road trip. Oblivious to danger, Mom insists on stopping at every weird tourist attraction and museum, while Dad just wants to drive his “midlife crisis” Ferrari. From the exploding RV at Tennessee’s Graceland to the cliff-hanger ending in Roswell, New Mexico, twins Coke and Pepsi are intent on outwitting their murderous enemies and staying alive. As narrator, Gutman takes readers into his confidence and delivers suspense, hair-raising danger, and laughs, along with odd factoids about Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico. Series fans will be lining up for book five. Grades 4-7. --Carolyn Phelan

Review

“A quirky look at Americana that will engage curious minds. Those looking for a fun and suspenseful read similar to those from Pseudonymous Bosch will not be disappointed.” (ALA Booklist)

“There is no shortage of humor or action. Gutman continues to do what he does best: entertain readers.” (Publishers Weekly)

From the Back Cover

Coke and Pepsi McDonald never meant to blow up their RV.

They never meant to be shoved into a spinning clothes dryer, either. And they certainly never meant to be locked in a vapor cabinet, nearly flattened by a falling cow, or poisoned with toxic bowling shoes. But what can you do when a killer robot clone is after you? This road trip across America is headed back West, but the adventure is just getting started!

Want to join in the fun? Fire up the old Google Maps and follow the McDonald twins as they get chased from the world’s largest pop bottle to the Museum of Weird. The twins send their regards: From Texas with love . . .
